1. Prior to mid-August 1950, the Artillery Barracks in Bielsko-Biala was occupied by an artillery regiment under the command of a colonel or lieutenant colonel with a German name.*
2. The soldiers of the regiment wore round service caps with red ribbons.
3. During the period from the fall of 1949 to shortly before Christmas the unit was away from Bielsko-Biala for exercises held in the Debica (R 51/V 24) area.
4. Another barracks installation consisting of five or six three-story buildings was east of the Artillery Barracks. Prior to W.W.II this installation had been occupied by a Polish infantry unit. No information was available on its present occupation.
5. No Soviet soldiers have been seen in Bielsko-Biala since 1946.

* ☐ Comment. The installation is believed to be occupied by the 23d Arty 50X1-HUM
 Regt of the 6th Inf Div. ☐ 50X1-HUM

 ☐ Comment. According to a previous report, the barracks installation was occupied by an infantry unit which, after a short period of training, 50X1-HUM detached soldiers for work in the mines. ☐ 50X1-HUM
